Participants

2016-17 was another successful year as thousands of kids were provided opportunities to be involved in organized sport and recreation. Our vision of building community capacity through sport was further supported by the hundreds of youth volunteers who put forth their efforts, talents and passions to create these opportunities for kids in their communities.

Programs ran in 68 sites across Vancouver and Coquitlam at schools, parks, community centres, and fields

375 trained and mentored youth volunteers led 1776 program sessions of the 245 programs run in 2016-17

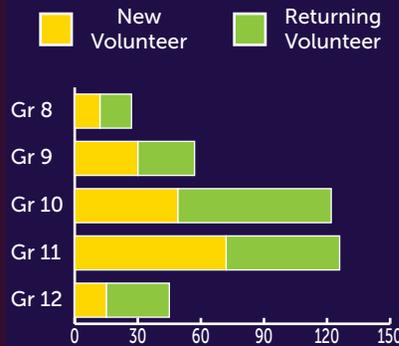

5296 Participants in 245 programs in 18 different sports or physical activities

Participation increased by 8% from 2015-16 when there were 4890 registered participants in all Moresports programs. Female participation increased by over 12% from 1743 the previous year, and male participation increased nearly 6% from 3147 in 2015-16

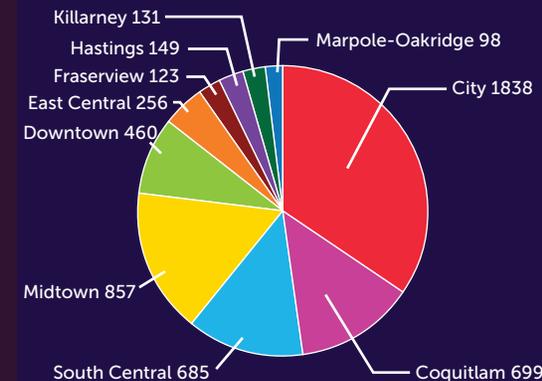

These sites are where kids are, and where they are comfortable, in an effort to eliminate some of the barriers that generally prevent kids from participating in organized sport and recreation

None of this work could be accomplished without the contributions of the core partners that are involved in Moresports, as they contribute so much in terms of guidance, governance and support.
